

A Special Day

Sal woke up early and ran downstairs with a big smile on her face.

"I have made you your favourite breakfast," said Mum.

Sal saw there was a special breakfast waiting for her on the table.

"Yum, pancakes!" Sal said.

After Sal had finished her pancakes, Mum gave her a present wrapped in pretty green paper with a pink bow on top.

"Thanks!" Sal said. She shook it and she heard it make a rattle.

"I think I know what it is!" said Sal happily.

After Sal opened the present, she put it in her bedroom and got ready for school. "I will have to play with it later," she said.

Sal got dressed and her mum drove her to school.

"Have an extra good day at school," said her mum as Sal got out of the car.

A Special Day: Activities

Literacy

- Think of a present you could buy a friend. Write down five clues you could give to help your friend guess the present.
- What is the best present you have ever been given? Write about it.
- Think of something you would really like your parents to get you. Write a letter to convince them.
- Design an invitation for your next birthday party!

Numeracy

- Find a recipe for pancakes. Follow the recipe, making sure to measure out the correct ingredients. Be sure you ask permission from an adult before you start.
- What time do you wake up? What time do you go to sleep? Create a timetable showing what you do on a normal school day.

Science

- Driving to school creates air pollution. Draw and label a picture showing the effects of air pollution on people and the environment.

Art and Design

- Create your own wrapping paper using butchers paper (cookie cutters make great templates!).
- What will you look like when you're a grandparent? Draw!
