

Statement or Question?

Statements give information.

They express an idea. Statements end with a full stop.

Questions ask for information.

They are used to find out information. They end with a question mark.

Circle to show whether each sentence is a statement or a question.
Add in a full stop or question mark to match.

- | | | |
|---|------------------|-----------------|
| 1. Why are you so late | statement | question |
| 2. Those dogs are beautiful | statement | question |
| 3. Do you think the teacher is coming | statement | question |
| 4. Would you like to have dinner together | statement | question |
| 5. This tap is dripping | statement | question |
| 6. Can I have some cake | statement | question |
| 7. The girls loved to play video games | statement | question |
| 8. My trip to Australia was wonderful | statement | question |
| 9. Darren is watching sport on TV | statement | question |
| 10. Is anyone in the bathroom | statement | question |

Statement or Question? Answers

Statements give information.

They express an idea. Statements end with a full stop.

Questions ask for information.

They are used to find out information. They end with a question mark.

Circle to show whether each sentence is a statement or a question.

Add in a full stop or question mark to match.

1. Why are you so late?

statement question

2. Those dogs are beautiful.

statement question

3. Do you think the teacher is coming?

statement question

4. Would you like to have dinner together?

statement question

5. This tap is dripping.

statement question

6. Can I have some cake?

statement question

7. The girls loved to play video games.

statement question

8. My trip to Australia was wonderful.

statement question

9. Darren is watching sport on TV.

statement question

10. Is anyone in the bathroom?

statement question