Read the following passages. Identify the different senses the author has described in the tables below.

1. A long, wooden pier reached out into the bay. Perched towards the end of the pier was a fisherman's shack. The mirror-like water reflected the threatening clouds that hung low overhead. A gentle breeze whispered through the salty air.

2. The cool evening wind moaned, toying with the tiring tree branches. Leaves tumbled off the tiled roof and fell to the ground, burying the yard under a patchwork quilt of yellow and brown. A curious squirrel scampered down the smooth trunk and disappeared into the leaves with a quiet rustle.
