

Past, Present and Future Tense

Verbs

Past

He flew past.

Present

He flies past.

Future

He will fly past.

1. Is the verb past, present or future tense?

Naty will run a race tomorrow.

The cat jumped over the back fence.

The snow falls over the city.

The basket ball bounces down the road.

The boys watched a movie.

If it rains again tomorrow, the pool will flood.

The dog chased the ball.

2. Change past tense into present tense.

The donkey pulled the cart.

She grabbed the ball.

Mum cooked dinner.

The water bottle dropped.

3. Change present tense into future tense.

The girl runs to school.

James orders his lunch.

The light switches on.

The nurse grabs the bottle.

4. Change future tense into past tense.

George will cook dinner.

She will kick the ball.

The chef will stir the stew.

Lola will behave herself.

Past, Present and Future Tense Answers

Verbs

Past

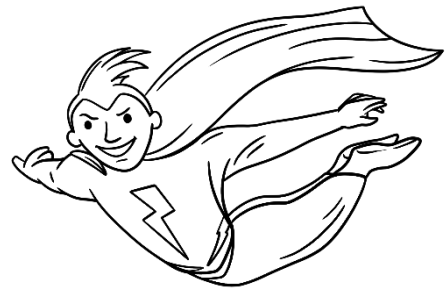

He flew past.

Present

He flies past.

Future

He will fly past.

1. Is the verb past, present or future tense?

Naty will run a race tomorrow.

future

The cat jumped over the back fence.

past

The snow falls over the city.

present

The basket ball bounces down the road.

present

The boys watched a movie.

past

If it rains again tomorrow, the pool will flood.

future

The dog chased the ball.

past

2. Change past tense into present tense.

The donkey pulled the cart.

The donkey pulls the cart.

She grabbed the ball.

She grabs the ball.

Mum cooked dinner.

Mum cooks dinner.

The water bottle dropped.

The water bottle drops.

3. Change present tense into future tense.

The girl runs to school.

The girl will run to school.

James orders his lunch.

James will order his lunch.

The light switches on.

The light will switch on.

The nurse grabs the bottle.

The nurse will grab the bottle.

4. Change future tense into past tense.

George will cook dinner.

George cooked dinner.

She will kick the ball.

She kicked the ball.

The chef will stir the stew.

The chef stirred the stew.

Lola will behave herself.

Lola behaved herself.