

Narratives

There are several elements and language features writers need to use when composing a narrative.

Match up each element and language feature to its definition.

Orientation	Characters
Resolution	Setting
Dialogue	Complication
Adjectives and Adverbs	Building Tension
The protagonists and antagonists in a story. What do they want? How do they interact with one another?	Characters talking to one another. This is used to show characters' personality and emotions.
Events that put the reader on the edge of their seat and keep them there!	The middle of the story. This is the part where something goes wrong for the main character.
The main problem of the story is solved.	These add detail to the writing and help the reader build strong images in their mind.
Where and when does the story take place?	The beginning of the story sets the scene for the reader. Who are the characters? What is the setting?

Narratives Answers

There are several elements and language features writers need to use when composing a narrative.

Match up each element and language feature to its definition.

Orientation The beginning of the story sets the scene for the reader. Who are the characters? What is the setting?	Characters The protagonists and antagonists in a story. What do they want? How do they interact with one another?
Resolution The main problem of the story is solved.	Setting Where and when does the story take place?
Dialogue Characters talking to one another. This is used to show characters' personality and emotions.	Complication The middle of the story. This is the part where something goes wrong for the main character.
Adjectives and Adverbs These add detail to the writing and help the reader build strong images in their mind.	Building Tension Events that put the reader on the edge of their seat and keep them there!