Probability

We can use the following terms to describe the probability of an event.

Impossible   Unlikely   Even Chance   Likely   Certain

Colour the jellybeans to make each statement true.

Picking out a green is more likely than picking a red.

Picking out a yellow jellybean is unlikely.

Picking out a blue jellybean is impossible.

Picking out a red is more likely than picking out blue.

Picking out a red or a blue is certain.

Picking out a green jellybean is unlikely.

Picking out a green is more likely than picking a blue.

Picking out a purple jellybean is unlikely.

Picking out a yellow or a red jellybean is impossible.