Sky High

Sal clutched the slippery rope as tightly as she could. "Mum! Dad! I'm scared!" she yelled down as she was pulled higher and higher. Her parents were holding each other, waving up to her. She could see her dad was shouting something, but all she could hear was the roar of the engine. She didn't want to take her eyes off her parents, but she was up so high that couldn't keep her eyes open any longer. Sal was terrified of heights and the thought of watching everything get smaller and smaller made her feel sick. She could feel her legs trembling. The strong wind blew her from side to side. Sal had told herself she was going to be brave, but she couldn't help crying.
